TIPS and HINTS

A Virtual Private Network is a secure way for you to use the internet when away from home. Why? Because it encrypts your communications making them meaningless to anyone who intercepts them. This is important if you use credit cards or access your bank account in coffee shops and even hotels with a Wi-Fi passcode. It doesn't take a very sophisticated hacker to see and steal your passwords from Internet communications on a public or shared network.
